REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Fairfield :-

I herewith present to you my fifth annual report of the public schools of Fairfield. During the past year forty-two different teachers have been employed, of which number only sixteen have taught for the entire year, while eleven have been in their respective schools for two terms. The greatest number of changes has been in the rural schools, where only three teachers have remained in the same school for the entire year. Most of the teachers of the rural schools are anxious to secure positions in village schools and leave as soon as a better position presents itself. There are twenty-nine regular teachers employed at the present time. The average weekly wages of the high school assistants is $13.31, that of grade teachers $10.50, and of the rural teachers $8.83.

I wish to call particular attention to the efforts that are being made throughout the state for the betterment of the rural schools. A circular issued by the state department has been sent to the local superintendents to assist them in rating the efficiency of their country schools. In the list of possible improvements the following may be noted: a normal trained teacher of good teaching ability, salary not less than $9.00 per week; one quarter acre of land for school grounds; decorative shrubbery; jacketed stove; window area at least one-fifth floor area; all lighting from left of pupils or from the rear and left with proper shades; good ventilation; hard wood floors; separate hook for clothing of each child; ample and clean storage space for all material not in use; good blackboards well slated; maps particularly of Maine, North America and the Hemispheres; library of not less than fifty books of general literature; clean out buildings screened with shrubbery; and a live school improvement league. According to the last report of the state superintendent of schools, Maine has in city schools 32,287 children, in village schools 45,549, and in rural schools 49,460 children; thus the importance of the country school.

Fairfield has nine occupied rural school buildings. According to the vote taken at the last town meeting the old building at Shawmut has been sold, also the one on the ridge. The Gifford Corner building has not been disposed of owing to the difficulty of establishing a clear title to the property. The matter is in the hands of the town agent for investigation. I would also recommend that the Shepherd and Ohio Hill buildings be sold. Both are small buildings and have not been used for several years.

The primary school at Fairfield Center deserves special attention, and better accommodations should be secured. Four years ago it became necessary to provide more room for the school at the Center, and accordingly a room was finished in the old town hall and accommodations made for caring for twenty-five pupils from the primary grades. These arrangements were intended to be only temporary, and it is necessary this year to secure larger and better accommodations for this school. The room is not large enough, the sanitary arrangements are not what they should be, and the yard is very small. I would recommend that another room be finished off in the attic of the grammar school building for the convenience of this school. This request has been made by the citizens of the Center and I heartily approve of their plan. This building has the best school yard in the town, and the out building is both convenient and sanitary. A special appropriation will be necessary for the improvements recommended at the Center.

According to the vote taken at the last town meeting Industrial Education has been introduced into the common schools of the village. This work is required in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades and is elective in the high school. The upper grade children at the Center and at Shawmut are conveyed to the village once a week for this work. In manual training 107 boys have been receiving instruction in mechanical drawing and bench work, and about the same number of girls have been taught cooking. In addition to this fourteen boys have been taking camp cooking, furnishing their own material for the work. I wish to call attention to the comparatively small cost for running these departments. Outside of the general equipment, which is permanent, there has been spent for the boys in lumber, hardware and supplies $33.69, and for the girls for groceries and supplies $36.80. To offset this last item the girls have sold food and cooked special orders for which they have received $14.79. The club women of the village have taken special interest in the domestic science department, and have donated part of the proceeds of an entertainment given by them. This sum amounting to $21.50 is to be used towards buying a dining table, chairs and dishes. We wish to publicly thank the club women for their generous gift, and for their many words of encouragement and appreciation.

In the introduction of Industrial Education Fairfield has taken a step in advance. During the past year eighteen towns and cities of the State took advantage of the law which encourages the introduction of manual training courses into elementary and secondary schools. Fifteen towns and cities made provision during the year for instruction in domestic science. It should be borne in mind that the State pays two-thirds the amount paid to each teacher for instruction in these branches.

The national system of office and school records has been introduced, thus making our records uniform with those used by other leading cities and towns. This system has been recommended for general adoption throughout the United States. Pupils leaving our town, or coming to us from other places take with them all necessary information, so that they are easily classified in their new surroundings. A complete record of each child is kept in attendance and scholarship from the time he enters school until he leaves. This renders educational statistics more accurate and valuable.

During the past year several needed repairs and improvements have been made. The North building and the Center buildings have been painted, the Center building shingled and shed repaired, a new shed built at Hinckley, and rooms fitted up in the basement of the high school building for the manual training and domestic science classes. Next year two hard wood floors should be placed in the South building, the Shawmut building should be painted, a larger shed built at Larone, the out buildings at Martin Stream, Bates and North Fairfield should be repaired, and many blackboards should be replaced or improved. The changes needed at the Center have already been mentioned.

Owing to the resignation of the Commercial teacher, and the critical illness of Miss Emery, two new teachers have been employed in the high school since the beginning of the fall term. The number of pupils remains about the same as last year, 103 being registered during the fall term. At the graduation last June the following received diplomas: Vera A. Beane, Clifford L. Clark, Alma B. Corson, Alberta M. Crummett, Eleanor I. Davis, Esther L. Drew, Otis C. Lawry, Roger A. Nye and R. Earl Steves.

Application has already been made to have the school placed on the approved list of the New England examining board.

Whole number of persons between 5 and 21,	1,239	1,265

I would make the following recommendations for the ensuing year:

High School	2,750 00
Industrial Training	500 00

Again I wish to thank the school officials and teachers for the friendly relations which have existed during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILL O. HERSEY,

Superintendent of Schools.
